DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over the Colonial Pipeline Company website pages including sections entitled "Terminalling Services," "About Us," and "System Map." Colonial Pipeline Company discloses a petroleum distribution system that includes supply lines below the ground surface, such supply lines include pumping stations i.e. terminals. The system map shows the distribution system passing through several states and it would be inherent that should the pipeline system need to pass or parallel an interstate highway, that proper "permission" is acquired. The claims also do not specify a specific length of pipeline. Therefore, with the length of underground pipe and all of the interstates traversing the U.S., the pipeline would definitely extend below and immediately adjacent the highways for at least some undetermined finite length. In the alternative, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to place a pipeline under the median of a highway, since doing would facilitate laying out of the pipeline from a "point a" to a "point b", for example.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 5/6/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The Colonial Pipeline Company document discloses a 5,300+ mile underground pipeline that traverses 13 southeastern and eastern seaboard states. It would be hard to believe that such pipeline would not intersect at some point an interstate highway system that either runs north-south or east-west. With respect to the phraseology "pass or parallel an interstate highway," what is meant is that a pipeline may intersect or run-along (adjacent) an interstate highway. Applicant argues that one of conventional wisdom would not place the pipeline in a median of an interstate highway, but would traverse Federal or state lands. It would appear that an interstate highway would fall into either Federal or state lands. As stated previously, the claims do not specify a specific length of pipeline. So, if a section of pipeline, for example 2-5' section of pipeline happens to traverse an interstate highway or the right-of-ways adjacent the highway, it would read on the claim as broadly recited.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
